Our mission is to excel at customer service and provide excellent food at reasonable prices. We've made a commitment to support our local Island farmers, foragers, brewers, musicians and neighbouring businesses as much as possible: we believe this benefits not only the health of our local economy, but more importantly the quality and flavour of our ingredients. By using naturally raised (hormone-free and antibiotic-free, free-range) meats, eggs and organic veggies our customers can benefit not only from the most delicious products but know they've made a contribution to our regional community.
